population/ family planning united states

The books in this bibliography have been chosen for those specialists and professionals in the fields of population and family planning who are seeking references either in their own disciplines or in closely related areas.

The number preceding each reference represents the classification and call number of that book in the collection of the Katharine Dexter McCormick Library.

A list of publishers' addresses is appended at the end of this bibliography for your convenience in ordering.

0.5 POPULATION TRENDS IN THE UNITED STATES, 1900 to 1960, Irene B. Taeuber. U.S. Bureau of the Census, Technical Paper No. 10. Wash. D.C.: U.S. Gov't Printing Office, 1964. 416 pp. $2.25.

3.12.1 S4 i INFANT, PERINATAL, MATERNAL AND CHILDHOOD MORTALITY IN THE UNITED STATES, Sam Shapiro, et. al. Cambridge, Mass.: Harvard Univ. Press, 1968. 388 pp. $9.50. The first nongovernmental study to deal jointly with infant, maternal and childhood mortality. Authors used special tabulations of national vital statistics prepared by the National Center for Health Statistics, as well as special studies on pregnancy outcome and published and unpublished state and local data.

5.2 W4.5 f FROM NOW TO ZERO: FERTILITY, CONTRACEPTION AND ABORTION IN AMERICA, Leslie A. Westoff & Charles F. Westoff. Boston: Little, Brown & Co., 1968, 1971. 358 pp. $3.95 pap. Based on numerous findings of the 1965 National Fertility Study by Norman B. Ryder and Chas. F. Westoff, this book was written for the general reading public interested in family planning, and for the college student as supplementary reading for any course touching on the subject of population for the family in contemporary America.

4. U8 F REPORT OF THE SECRETARY OF HEALTH, EDUCATION, AND WELFARE SUBMITTING FIVE-YEAR PLAN FOR FAMILY PLANNING SERVICES AND POPULATION RESEARCH PROGRAMS, U.S. Dep't. of Health, Education and Welfare, U.S. Gov't. Printing Office, Oct. 1971. 560 pp. A plan for extension of family planning services to all persons desiring such services, for family planning and population research programs, and for training of the necessary manpower to carry out the programs. Forecasts the national cost of a program which will require support from both the private sector as well as the Federal Government.

5. S7 p POPULATION & PEOPLE, Edward G. Stockwell. Chicago: Quadrangle Books, 1968. 307 pp. $7.95. Demographic analysis of the American population.

5.2 B6 p POPULATION OF THE UNITED STATES, D. J. Bogue. New York: Free Press, 1959. 873 pp. $19.95. Basic reference book. Comprehensive statement of population development in the U.S., with an explanation of how and why they are taking place.

5.2 C2 a THE AMERICAN POPULATION DEBATE, Daniel Callahan, ed. Garden City, N.Y.: Doubleday, 1971. 380 pp. $7.95 (paper $2.95). A collection of papers presenting a variety of statements, analyses, and positions on American population growth and its implications for the quality and future of American life.

5.2 C4.5 d DIFFERENTIAL CURRENT FERTILITY IN THE UNITED STATES, Lee-Jay Cho, Wilson H. Grabill and Donald J. Bogue. Chicago Univ. of Chicago, community and Family Study Center, 1970. 426 pp. $6.75. By utilizing the censuses of 1910, 1940, 1950 and 1960, this monograph studies the contributions of different subgroups to the population growth in the United States.

5.2 C5 n NEW ESTIMATES OF FERTILITY AND POPULATION IN THE UNITED STATES, A. J. Coale and M. Zelnik. N. J.: Princeton Univ. Press, 1963. 186 pp. $6.00. Study of annual white births from 1855 to 1960 and of completeness of enumeration in the censuses from 1880 to 1960.

5.2 C6 p POPULATION AND THE AMERICAN FUTURE: THE REPORT OF THE COMMISSION ON POPULATION GROWTH AND THE AMERICAN FUTURE, Commission on Population Growth and the American Future, John D. Rockefeller 3rd, Chairman. Washington, D.C.: U. S. Government Printing Office, 1972. 186 pp. $1.75. Tables and charts. Concludes that no substantial benefits will result from further growth of the Nation's population and recommends increasing public knowledge of the causes and consequences of population change, facilitating and guiding the process of population movement, maximizing information about human reproduction and enabling individuals to avoid unwanted fertility.

5.2 D4 a APPALACHIAN FERTILITY DECLINE: A Demographic and Sociological Analysis, G. F. DeJong. Lexington, Ky.: Univ. of Kentucky Press, 1968. 138 pp. $5.00. A study of the population trend in Appalachia, the decline in the birth rate and an analysis of some possible explanations for the change.

5.2 F7 s THE SOUTHERN APPALACHIAN REGION; A Survey, T. R. Ford, ed. Lexington, Ky.: Univ. of Kentucky Press, 1967. 308 pp. $4.50 paper. Report on this region's population, economy, institutions and culture. Based on a conference of delegates from various religious denominations who met in Berea, Ky. in 1956 to discuss the possibilities of cooperative programs in religious education and welfare in the mountain area.

5.2 N3 g THE GROWTH OF UNITED STATES POPULATION, (No. 1279). Wash., D.C.: National Academy of Sciences Committee on Population, 1965. 25 pp. $1.25. Report by a committee of some of the nation's top scientists.

5.2 S6 i IS THERE AN OPTIMUM LEVEL OF POPULATION? S. Fred Singer. N.Y.: McGraw-Hill, 1971. 426 pp. $12.50. Incorporates papers presented at a symposium of the American Association for the Advancement of Science in December 1969, to explore such subjects as the impact of population growth on natural resources and on the quality of the environment.

5.2 T5 p POPULATION TRENDS IN THE UNITED STATES, Warren S. Thompson and P. K. Whelpton. (Demographic Monographs Volume 9) . N.Y.: Gordon and Breach, 1969. 415 pp. $19.50. One of a series of monographs published under the direction of the President's Research Committee on Social Trends (The Committee was named by Pres. Herbert Hoover in 1929 to survey social changes in the U.S.), this monograph makes available some of the longer tables which could not be included in the Committee's report and discusses their significance in detail. It gives a more complete picture of population in the U.S. 1790 to 1930 than heretofore available and projects past trends into the future.

5.21 H6 c THE CHALLENGE OF AMERICA'S METROPOLITAN POPULATION OUTLOOK, 1900-1985, P. L. Hodge and P. M. Hauser, Foreword by Paul H. Douglas. New York: Praeger, 1968. 90 pp. $7.50. A demographic study of urban problems including such topics as "more people in Metropolis," "further separation by color," "boom in young labor force" and "projections, not predictions".

5.21 N3 b BUILDING THE AMERICAN CITY, National Commission on Urban Problems. Washington, D.C.: U.S. Government Printing Office, 1968. 504 pp. $4.50 paper. The report of the National Commission on Urban Problems to the Congress and to the President of the United States, Dec. 12, 1968.
